German Troops Smash Ahead At Stalingrad

Ominous Warning Given By Soviet Paper To Defenders Of Volga Bastion

NAZI DEFENSES BEING PENETRATED

Fighting Also Reported In Streets Of Novorossisk, Great Naval Base

By JAMES E. BROWN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Sept. 11.—As the defenses of Stalingrad appeared to be slowly crumbling today and the Germans smashed ahead into the last defenses of the city, the official Soviet army newspaper Red Star issued an ominous warning to the military and civilian defenders of the beleaguered Volga Bastion.

"The defenders of Stalingrad have no choice," Red Star declared. "The road back from Stalingrad no longer exists.

"Woe to any man who, in despicable fear for his own hide, is ready to betray his comrades.

"Cowards and panic-mongers cannot expect mercy."

The dramatic plea of Red Star came as Soviet communiques admitted it was fighting "fierce defensive battles" on the western approaches of Stalingrad, and reported a Nazi penetration of these positions after acknowledging withdrawal from three more towns.

Soviet Forces Driven Back

It was the fourth successive day of official admission that the Soviet forces have been driven back by the massive German assaults.

And, for the first time in several days, the communique reported a withdrawal on the front southwest of Stalingrad.

There was no longer doubt that the enemy troops are deep into Novorossisk, the great naval base on the Black Sea. There too, the communique revealed, the Soviet defenders were being driven back, in bitter fighting.

"During the night our troops fought west and southwest of Stalingrad, in the area of Mozdok and in the streets of Novorossisk," the official communique stated.

"West of Stalingrad the Soviets

By JOHN H. LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

All but 31 of the RAF planes returned to their bases.

First news of the blasting assault came from DNB, the German official news agency, which revealed that several towns in western Ger-

Nearing Finals In Selection Of Miss America

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11.—Admission to the Boardwalk theatre where graceful and talented beauties of the country were competing for the crown of "Miss America of 1942" was still keenly sought after today by the host of army air students quartered here as judging in the annual bathing beauty contest entered its next to last day.

Because of the high price of admissions, servicemen were largely confined to the balcony and back rows on the lower floor but what they lacked in choice seats they made up in demonstration. Cheers, whistles, clapping of hands and stamping of feet greeted the 30 entrants as they paraded across the stage in slinky gowns, strutted in

GREEK ISLANDS AND CRETE ARE BEING BOMBED

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Greek archipelago is the object of constantly increasing aerial bombardment by America and allied aircraft, the London Daily Telegraph reported today.

Quoting the Rome correspondent of the Geneva Tribune, the Telegraph said that air raids over the Greek islands and Crete are growing in intensity.

"Liberators and Flying Fortresses," the Geneva Tribune's man in Rome asserted, "are appearing in greater numbers, particularly the planes from bases that Americans have established in Eritrea and Egypt."

By-Pass Route Will Be Built

State Highway Department To Build Jefferson St. To Butler Ave. Route

WORK WILL BE STARTED AT ONCE

Edwin O. Reed, superintendent in this county for the state highway department announced today that authority had been received from the state offices to proceed immediately with the building of the by-pass of Route 422 which runs from Jefferson street to Butler avenue by way of Mill street, Grove street, Neal street and Taylor street.

From Jefferson street to Mill street the right of way parallels the Neshannock river over the old furnace grounds. This will be 46 feet wide. The city is already putting in curbing. From Mill street up Grove over Neal and up Taylor street the highway will be 22 feet wide. All of it will be bituminous top.

The work will be done by the state highway department using WPA labor. Mr. Reed stated that they will commence work within a week or 10 days. The distance of the by-pass is just short of one mile.

The advantages of the by-pass will be many. Trucks can be routed around it thus keeping them off East Washington street and at the same time give them a route that will have an easier grade than East Washington street. Passenger cars of the East Side can use the by-pass and thus avoid traffic congestion on East Washington street.

American Airmen Playing Important Role In Middle East Campaign

By W. P. SAPHIRE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CAIRO, Sept. 11.—Allied aircraft pounded Tobruk, smashed more enemy communications and supplies and beat back a small group of Axis tanks in what observers today believe is the final touch to Axis superiority in the middle east.

The United Nations continued their heavy aerial bombardment of Tobruk, it was disclosed, when a night raid set huge fires and caused considerable destruction in the city's port facilities.

This assault, in which American aircraft probably participated, was a swift follow-up to yesterday's daylight attack by south African and United States planes, which smashed Axis communications and supplies.

Desert Action Limited

Action on the desert was limited but, in their first encounter with Axis units since Field Marshal Gen. Erwin Rommel called a halt to his recent offensive, British mechanized outfits sent the enemy to cover.

The bedraggled remains of Rommel's army remained crouched behind the Himeimat Heights region, their initiative seemingly spent. Rommel, himself, apparently was enroute to Berlin, perhaps to be replaced in command of the combined German-Italian desert forces.

U. S. Submarines Take Heavy Toll

Long-Range Submersibles Have Sunk Or Damaged 99 Enemy Ships

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—Long-range American submarines today are helping to shift the balance of sea power in the Pacific by slashing at Japanese supply lines, and to date they are credited with sinking or damaging a total of 99 enemy ships.

Operating thousands of miles from present scenes of action, the U. S. subs, nevertheless, have contributed greatly to recent American victories in the Solomons and the Southwest Pacific generally by sinking valuable enemy supplies and reinforcements.

Forced to maintain radio silence for safety, the American submersibles may not report for days and weeks, but their cumulative sucesses since the outbreak of the war leaves no doubt that they are on the job around the clock.

Navy communiques, which from time to time summarize submarine operations, show that the American underwater craft have sunk almost every type of Japanese warship.

Huge Demonstration Of Civilian Defense Set For September 19

What might happen to Lawrence county and its citizens if the enemy bombers once got past the east coast defenses, will be demonstrated in an elaborate fashion in Taggart Stadium Saturday night September 19, at eight o'clock it was announced today. In addition, there will be a mass induction of Civilian Defense Workers, a parade, and a flag ceremony. The entire program, designed to engender greater interest in defense measures here and to induce more men and women to join the defense effort, will be free to the public.

Some weeks ago a bomb demonstration was staged in Taggart Stadium in conjunction with a boxing tournament. The demonstration was an effective one and since then it has been urged that another one be staged, but that the next one include all defense efforts put forth during and after a bombing takes place.

County Wide Parade

The program will open with a parade of county wide Defense workers. This includes air raid wardens, auxiliary police and firemen, demolition and decontamination squads, first aid squads, staff officers and all others in the defense movement. Following this there will be a flag lowering ceremony.

The air raid wardens will then be sworn in en masse. This includes every sort of defense worker under the Civilian Defense office. Following that will come the introduction of distinguished citizens present and a history of the Civilian Defense effort.

The second half of the program will see the bomb demonstration and the work of rescue squads. A collection of small buildings will be set up on the field, houses, a store and other buildings. A control center will be set up, and as the air raid progresses a narrator will enlighten the crowd upon what is going on.

Plane To Fly Over

A plane will be heard approaching the stadium and the control center officers go into action. The system of control lights will be used, workers notified and soon the various kinds of defense workers will be in their places.

Bombs, both explosive, incendiary and gas will be dropped upon the

Willkie Says Turkey Will Stay Neutral

(International News Service)

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Sept. 11.—Wendell L. Willkie predicted today that Turkey will remain neutral.

President Roosevelt's special envoy, in Beirut to confer with Gen. Charles De Gaulle of the fighting French forces, said that Turkey is determined to maintain its neutrality despite heavy pressure from the Axis.

Willkie arrived here from Ankara where he met Turkey's prime minister, Shukru Saracoglu, and Foreign Secretary Numan Menemencioglu. The prime minister cut short a tour of the provinces to meet Willkie, and the foreign secretary appointed him as "our ambassador to the American public".

Stalin Defended Stalingrad Back In War Days Of '18

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Sept. 11.—Battered, smoking Stalingrad was reminded today of the bloody, violent days of 1918 when a tough and determined young bolshevik came to take over the defense of the city, then known as Tsaritsyn, from the counter-revolutionists.

He reorganized its defense, inspired and stiffed the defenders and the town held.

Later, in honor of its defender, Josef V. Stalin, the Volga city was renamed Stalingrad.

Today Stalingrad again faced travail, with a ruthless and powerful enemy at its gate. And its defender, in fact, is again Stalin, the leader of the Russian people.

Red Star, the army newspaper, in a solemn and ominous plea that was more an order, called today for the same spirit of sacrifice that saved Stalingrad 24 years ago.

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, In Australia, Sept. 11.—In bitter fighting and at the cost of heavy casualties, Australian infantrymen were reported today to have halted the Japanese advance on Port Moresby, the Allied base in New Guinea.

The enemy has made no appreciable gains in the past 24 hours, although heavy fighting continues and both sides have suffered considerable casualties, a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported today.

As the jungle-hardened Aussies spread out along the precipitous slopes and ridges of the Owen Stanley range and fought hand-to-hand battles with the persistent foe, Allied bombers and fighter planes carried out continuous attacks on the enemy, strafing and bombing Japanese troops and blasting their tenuous supply lines.

Main Area Of Fighting

The main area of fighting was reported to center around the village of Efogi, 10 miles south of the main pass through the peak range of the mountain chain that extends the length of the southeastern tip of New Guinea.

Efogi lies on the southern, or Port Moresby, side of the range, but

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—President Roosevelt said today that he hoped to have a rubber administrator and all of the recommendations of his special rubber investigating committee in effect by Monday.

He declined to give any hints as to the administrator's identity and laughingly warned reporters against speculation.

Nation-Wide Rationing Of Gas Forecast

By JACK VINCENT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The country's 20,000,000 unrationed motorists will be limited to an average of between four and six gallons of gasoline a week when nation-wide rationing of motor fuel starts soon, it was forecast today as government officials prepared to quickly carry out recommendations of the Baruch committee to conserve rubber.

The Baruch committee, appointed by President Roosevelt to end confusion over the gasoline and tire situation, recommended nation-wide gas rationing to cut average driving from 6,700 to 5,000 miles a year, urged a country-wide speed limit of 35 miles an hour and proposed periodic inspection of tires.

New York Society Woman Is Found Dead In Hotel At Reno, Nev.

THROAT AND WRISTS HAD BEEN SLASHED

(International News Service)

RENO, Nev., Sept. 11.—The possibility of murder was introduced today into mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. Bridget McBurney Sargent, New York society woman, as police and members of a coroner's jury disagreed on the cause.

Mrs. Sargent, wife of Charles S. Sargent, Jr., of Cedarhurst, L. I., was found dead in a Reno hotel room Monday morning, her throat and wrist slashed by a razor blade. She had come to Reno to establish residence for divorce.

Police Say Suicide

District Attorney Harold Taber and Police Captain Harry Fletcher returned a verdict of suicide.

Yesterday, nowever, a coroner's jury sitting to hand down what was expected to be a routine verdict, ruled that Mrs. Sargent came to her death from throat wounds "inflicted by person or persons unknown".

A witness at the hearing was James Howard Trott, Jr., son of a wealthy Bermuda hotel man, who found Mrs. Sargent's body. He testified that he and the dead woman had been keeping company for some time and admitted that he had beaten her on several occasions. Trott was further quoted as saying that he was "probably" responsible for some of the bruises found on Mrs. Sargent's body.

Air raid wardens have demonstrated their technique in warning citizens to put their lights out, an electric sign upon the store building will be blacked out from a blackout switch pulled by the warden, traffic will be controlled and then the bombing.

One of the buildings will be partially demolished by a high explosive bomb. Another will be set on fire by an incendiary bomb and still another will be infected with gas from a gas bomb.

Rescue squads will get people out of the damaged homes, Boy Scouts will be seen carrying messages from the field of action to the control center, demolition squads will tear down the damaged structures, decontamination squads will dispel the gas, the road repair gang will make repairs to the highway in front of the buildings and utility squads will repair utility services.

First Aid Squads

First aid squads will attend the injured and a feeding center will care for the wants of families driven out of their homes. The entire demonstration will be a capsule edition of a real bombing and it is estimated the entire program will take about ninety minutes to present.

The demonstration is one that will drive home to the people the necessity of proper precautions against bombs much better than booklets or articles could ever do. Hundreds of Defense Workers will be working during the demonstration and the entire spectacle is well worth seeing. There will be no charge nor collection taken.

The program comes under the auspices of the Lawrence County Council of Defense of which County Comissioner William R. Walton is general chairman and Louis B. Round is the executive director. The executive director of the demonstration will be Numa F. Vidal. The following are members of the committee staging the demonstration.

Councilman D. O. Davies, Burgess Clyde B. Houk of Ellwood City, Burgess Carl Montgomery of Bessemer, W. Fillmore Campbell of New Wilmington, Fire Chief James E. Thomas, Sheriff Clyde D. several formidable ridges lie between the village and the comparatively level ground between the foot of the range and the coast.

The battle area is 40 to 45 miles from Port Moresby by air, and some ten miles further over the winding mountain raids.

"The Japanese have been temporarily checked in the Owen Stanley area,' the Allied communique declared.

"Bitter fighting continues with casualties heavy on both sides.

"The enemy made no further progress yesterday.

"Allied attack bombers continued to harass enemy supply lines."

Largr Scale Battle

The present battle is probably on a larger scale than any previous engagement in the New Guinea area, a military spokesman said.

Allied fighters, escorting the attack bombers, are co-operating closely with the ground forces under command of Lieut. Gen. Sidney H. Rowell, an experienced field officer who led Australian troops in the early campaigns in the north African desert.

The fighting area, while not definitely described, was believed to center between Efogi and the next ridge to the south. A series of ridges, of gradually reducing elevation, lie between Efogi and the low ground 25 miles to the south.

A few miles south of the village is the beginning of a hard-surfaced road which extends to Port Moresby.

Of the 99 total credited to subs, 65 Japanese ships of all types were probably destroyed and 17 damaged. Naval men point out that the submarines sometimes are forced to dive out of danger after firing their torpedoes, preventing observation of results.

That the Nipponese at times become concerned over whereabouts of U. S. submarines was indicated a few days ago by a Tokyo broadcast which asserted that the American people "are demanding" information on what their submersibles are doing.

Naval experts assert that such propaganda is nothing more than a "fishing expedition" by Japan to discover what happened to a valuable cargo long overdue in some Pacific enemy base.

"Southwest of Stalingrad the Germans attacked and the Soviets counter-attacked.

"One Soviet unit quit an inhabited locality in this area.

Fierce Fighting At Novorossisk

"Fierce street fighting continues in Novorossisk. In one area our forces retreated from several streets under heavy pressure.

"On the central (Moscow) front our troops broke through to the outskirts of a large inhabited locality."

There was no hint as to the central front city under Russian attack. The greatest pressure in that area recently has been exerted on Rzhev at the head of a deep Nazi Salient in the Russian lines.

But all interest centered on the bloody battleground before Stalingrad, strewn with corpses and wrecked smoking hulks of tanks, trucks and other machines of war.

There was no longer any doubt that Nazi Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock, who believes it is a soldier's destiny to die on the field of battle, is going to pay whatever the price must be in his effort to take Stalingrad.

Moscow reports said the flat table land before the city was literally carpeted with the bodies of German dead—thousands of dead.

Still the Nazi hordes pressed on. Reports from the battlefront said fresh troops and new airplanes were arriving constantly. Despite enormous losses the Germans continued to push the Russians back, slowly, inexorably.

The strength of the German airforce, strafing, bombing and divebombing the Russian positions, has been maintained at a thousand planes throughout the battle, regardless of heavy losses.

fused to allow the Allied command to take steps considered necessary to deny Axis powers bases and facilities in the island.

Progress of the assault was more clearly indicated, however, by announcements from Vichy which controls the island politically.

The Vichy ministry of information stated, among other things, that the Madagascar garrison is engaged in "an unequal battle."

French To Wilt?

Announcement from the pro-Axis capital of France were interpreted by observers to mean that the French forces on the island can be expected to wilt soon under pressure from the attackers.

With United States forces reportedly standing by to help if the necessity arose, the offensive began yesterday when at least three squadrons of British warships bombarded the coastline and Royal Air Force planes carried the assault as far as 90 miles inland.

Military officials here had no immediate comment regarding the operations and probable conflicts that ensued at Majunga, Ambaja and Morondava.

many were attacked during the night.

The DNB claimed that 15 British planes were shot down, but qualified the figure with the explanation that complete reports had not been received.

British officials subsequently disclosed that the raid was concentrated on the important industrial and manufacturing center in the Ruhr.

Dusseldorf is regarded as one of the Nazis' foremost production centers in the manufacture of machinery and dyes. It lies on the right bank of the Rhine River, 24 miles from Cologne, and it is an important railway junction.

The wide-scale RAF assault followed by 24 hours a similar devastating attack in eastern Germany by Russian aircraft.

Soviet airmen carried their raids to Koenigsburg, Budapest and even Berlin, Moscow disclosed.

ALLIED PLANES POUND TOBRUK AND NAZI LINES

When Nazi prisoners of war revealed that Rommel would return to Berlin because of illness, military observers here concluded that "the desert fox," as Rommel is called, is finished and that the Axis forces, in their present condition, will be unable to resume offensive operations.

Allies May Take Initiative

It was considered likely, also, that the Allies, increasingly strong with more tanks and planes in this area, probably would take the initiative before the enemy recovered from losses sustained in Rommels' week-long offensive.

The part played by American airmen in the Middle East campaign was described by Brig. Gen. Auby C. Eastland, chief of the U. S. fighter command in this theater of war. He said the young American fliers "have proved their worth in many missions with the Royal Air Force and the south African air force, escorting bombers that were responsible to a great extent for the destruction of the enemy's lines of communications."

church, pronouncing the invocation, and also speaking at the memorial service honoring those who have passed on during the year. These included: John Richardson, Ed. Kelly, Laumie Tewell and John Sherger. An interesting letter was read from Mabel Shaw Moller, of Ridgefield Park, N. J.

The minutes were read by Secretary James A. Ball, who also read letters from those who sent their regrets.

Addresses of an exceptionally interesting nature were given by Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Burton, Fred L. Rentz, Dr. Samuel W. Perry, Hon. R. Lawrence Hildebrand, Samuel Howell and William Francis. Several splendid readings were given by Blanche Sheler Smith, Hazel Lutton Meade and Jose Sanford Hoover, that of Mrs. Meade relating to the late Prof. J. P. Hervey, which was very interesting.

Fred L. Rentz was presented with a handsome illuminated pencil, while the Fletcher family received the prize for the largest family, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Turco, bride and groom of recent date, received the prize for the youngest married couple. The door prize went to Mrs. Blanche Sheler Smith, of Cincinati, O., while Margaret Patterson Clarke also received an award.

The same officers will serve the association for next year, no formal election taking place last evening, the understanding being that they are elected for life.

AVIATION AFTER THE WAR

IF there is one thing certain after the war, it is that a tremendous fillip will be given to aviation.

At the moment, of course, the enormous technological improvement that has been made in this industry is accruing altogether to war making.

But after the war civil aviation will inherit the new speeds, the better planes and the enhanced services which have been made possible by war-enforced development.

One of these new services is the "flight strip," the first of which has just opened "somewhere in the middle Atlantic seaboard." Such strips are in the nature of alternatives to airports.

They are so called because they are to be located—the present is the first of 80 to be built—along our highways, and, in fact, will become part of the regular highway program..

This enterprise should help to make our airways as important as our other forms of transport in time to come.

MORE BOMBS FOR OUR FORTRESS

In view of the criticisms that have been directed at some American planes now in use against Hitler, it is significant that Prime Minister Churchill, in his war review before the Commons on Tuesday, declared that "there is no doubt that in the accuracy of high-level aim and mutually defensive power, new possibilities of air warfare are being opened up by our American comrades and their Flying Fortresses."

Now comes Colonel John H. Jouett, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America, with the disclosure that the Flying Fortress' bomb load for use in Europe will be increased from 3½ to about 8 tons. In that event, the Fortress' bomb load will be comparable to that of the British Lancaster, Halifax and Stirling bombers. Presumably the same change will affect the B-24, or Liberator, America's other four-motored bomber.

The Fortress originally was designed to operate over the vast spaces of the Pacific. It can fly fast, far and high. But, with its relatively light bomb load, it has been at something of a disadvantage over Europe, where bomb tonnage, speed and height, rather than long-range flying ability, count just now.

More than doubling the Fortress' bomb load, indications are, will reduce its range, but not its speed or altitude performance. That is all to the good. If the shift to the heavier load is practicable, let us get on with it. Our biggest bombers are fine planes, but if they can be made more effective we should do it quickly.

AMERICA'S NATURAL RESOURCES

In the laboratories of America, miracles are in the process of being wrought. New frontiers of science are being explored. And old and commonplace materials are being turned to new and marvelous uses.

Coal and oil are cases in point. We think primarily of coal as a substance which provides motive power for industry and which heats homes. We think primarily of oil as a variety of liquids which propel our engines and lubricate our machinery. But coal and oil are the basis of new materials which serve a thousand other vital purposes.

The loss of our natural rubber is leading to the creation of a vast new synthetic rubber industry. Some kinds of synthetic rubber are made from oil derivatives. Other kinds are made of derivatives of coal. All the various synthetic rubbers have special and important uses. And the chemists are certain that, in time, we will have an abundant supply of artificial rubber which will be superior in all ways to the natural product.

We are just on the verge of what might be termed the "plastic age." Again, coal and oil enter prominently into the picture. They are the basis of a long list of plastics which will be used for an astonishing variety of purposes in the future. Plastic autos, plastic airplanes, plastic window glass, plastic furniture, plastic home utensils—these are but a few of the revolutionary chemical developments of the time.

America is singularly blessed in the magnitude of its natural resources. And it is equally blessed in the efficiency and progressiveness of the great private industries which develop them. Natural resources give us strength in time of war. They will give us a higher standard of living than we have ever known, when peace comes again.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Next October, from the 4th to the 10th, Fire Prevention Week will be observed, as it has each year for more than a generation. And never in our history has fire prevention been of greater importance to this nation. For fire is responsible for the complete destruction of vast quantities of materials which are needed for war. .

W. E. Mallalieu, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, recently listed a few of the serious fires that have occurred within the recent past. One fire destroyed a tremendous tonnage of natural rubber. Another destroyed a plant making magnesium powder. Another destroyed the great liner Normandie at a time when it was being converted for Navy use. Another stopped production for a time in the largest refinery of aviation gasoline in the world. Others struck at factories making machines, parts for airplane propellers, aluminum castings for airplane motors, and arms.

Speaking of these disasters, Mr. Mallalieu said: "In most instances fire could have been prevented, or at least the destruction reduced, if adequate precautions had been taken in time. Instead, the country was confronted by finished warplanes held at other factories for lack of propellers at a time when men were dying in battle and armies suffering defeat because there was insufficient air protection. It becomes increasingly evident that fire defense aids war offense."

Before Fire Prevention Week, during Fire Prevention Week, and after Fire Prevention Week, all citizens must voluntarily cooperate in a nation-wide campaign to outlaw fire. Every executive, foreman, worker, homeowner, should learn and apply the fundamentals of fire protection. This is one vital phase of the war effort in which all can collaborate. Each fire prevented aids the cause of the democracies.

Japanese and German time tables have been seriously interrupted, and soon they will be discarded entirely. Fleeing rats need no time table to inform them how fast they can run.

The Senate Finance Committee rejected the Morgenthau "spending tax" plan unanimously, a gesture that intimated it would have preferred to make it 200 per cent unanimous.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN MOTHERS HOLD WAR JOBS

IN MANY DEFENSE areas the public nursery school has been a great protection to young children and their mothers in war industries. Recently Paul V. McNutt, Chairman of the War Man-power Commission announced that "thousands more mothers in war industries is being made possible by establishment of new war nursery schools." Also from the Works Progress Administration comes the announcement that "approximately 50,000 additional children will be cared for while mothers take their places in war production lines."

As new nursery schools open under the wartime program, mothers in increasing numbers are being freed to go into bomber plants, munition works and other production activities.

The school operates on a six-hour day, and in some cases for 8, 10, 12 and even 14 hours a day.

Need Of Trained Teachers

For these rapidly growing schools trained teachers are hard to find (a good field for young women to enter for training). Universities and colleges are cooperating with WPA staffs in conducting training courses for workers selected to operate the schools.

Let us hope good standards of training and operating of these schools will be required. It is true that during the depression emergency, nursery schools conducted by the WPA were generally on a high plane, thanks to the good leadership in this special field.

Studies of work productivity made by industry also reveal that those women whose children are cared for make a greater contribution to the war effort because they approach their work free from worry about their children. The women who operate these nursery schools will relieve many times their number of other women for production lines. In each locality this nursery school program is sponsored by state and local educational authorities.

Home Best For Some

I should like to say here, that while many mothers of young children are entering the war industries from a sense of patriotic duty and others from necessity, some mothers might render a more patriotic service by remaining home with their children, especially in areas where adequate nursery schools are not available.

What about children from 6 to 21 with mothers who work? When school begins in September, there might be a longer day with the added time devoted to supervised study and play. Yet this would mean excessive hours for the already over-burdened teacher.

You probably read the press report that some child care experts of England recently have said that the ten-year-old child is the one most ready to drift into delinquency. The PTA, Church and school might well consider the proper care of the child from 6 to 12, especially if his mother be employed.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Would you pay a child for helping bout the home?

A. As a rule I would not. However, those parents who do and are sure they are getting good results should hesitate to change. My special bulletin on allowances may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE PIONEER

My son, if all men you would please
And live your term of life at ease;
If popular you wish to be,
A person all are glad to see,
Be very meek and do not look
Beyond the latest printed book.
From pioneering heartaches shrink
And never lie awake to think.

By custom most of us are curbed.
We do not like to be disturbed.
That two and two make four we know,
But past that have no wish to go.
We'd rather on old pathways stay
Than struggle for some better way.
We don't like thinkers who insist
On teaching us a truth we've missed.

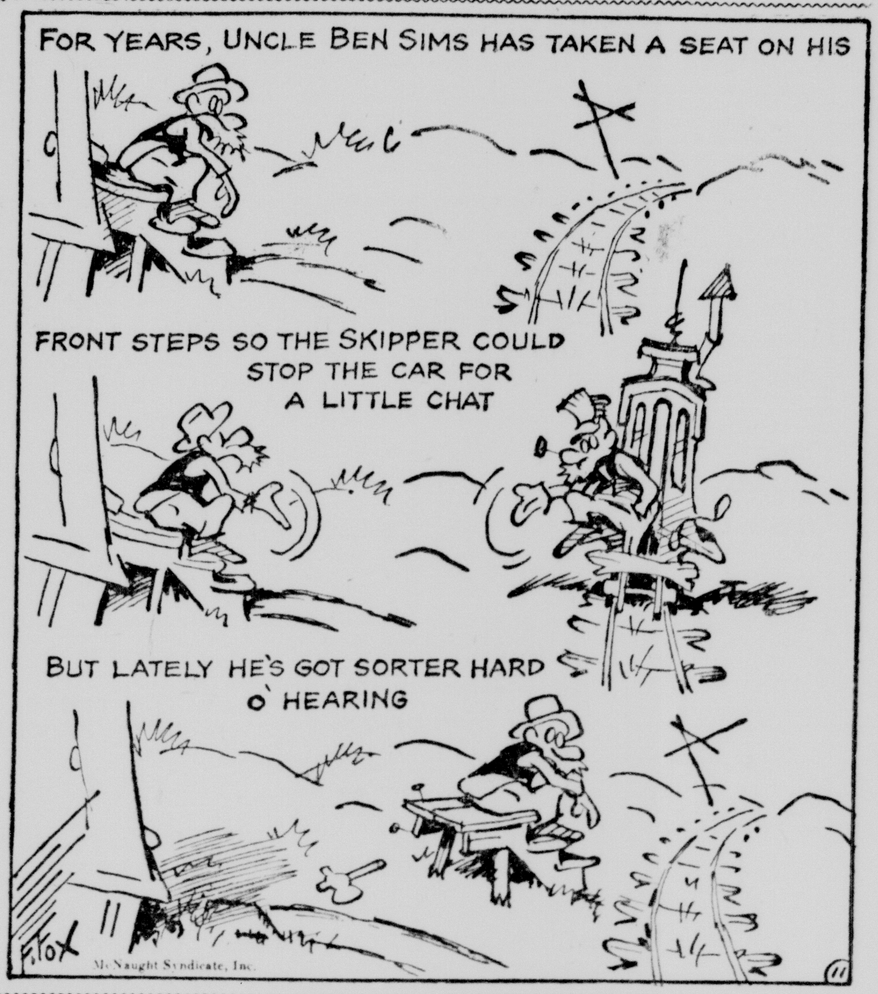

But, son, if something urges you
To join the lonely, thinking few;
If far away you sometimes see
A way of life that ought to be
And cannot rest until you've moved
The race from ruts in which 'tis grooved,
Then shout and make your finding known,
But be prepared to stand alone.

Be firm! From scorn you mustn't shrink,
The many jibe at those who think.
Be brave! For brave that man must be
Who seeks to change society.
Old ways we love, and it is true
Not easily we'll turn to new.
Remember once the Master tried
And for His care was crucified.

Bible Thought For Today

Can a man take fire in his bosom, and his clothes not be burned?—Proverbs 7:27.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:16. Sun rises tomorrow 6:38.

A great many newspaper men have been killed and captured in Europe during the war. The newspaper men will do anything to get the news for the people.

"I'm afraid I am going to have to recommend an operation for you," the doctor said after examining the patient. "Very well, doctor," answered the patient, "Which one do you recommend?"

The dictators of Europe think America is the greatest prize for them. That is the best reason they should not get it.

CURIOUS CYNIC CANTS

In ye olden times, there was less petting in buggies—because there were fewer buggies.

Of course, Darwin's theory that the fittest survive is correct—you are here, aren't you?

Another good memory test is to try to recall the things you were worried about last year.

There is one thing you will have to admit in favor of dumb animals—none of them make a noise like a saxophone.

Don't blame the show-off—the merchant with a small stock must keep most of it on display in his show window.

Men may beef about the money women spend in the beauty shops, but statistics show that the American male spent about $30,000,000 more to keep his hair cut and face shaved than women spent in the beauty shops!

If meat rationing is carried out in this country, every person will get 2½ pounds a week. That's better than two ounces a week in Europe.

AN UNSEEN POWER

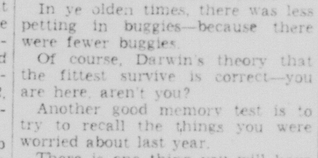

A bandit named Savage, in Europe, after forfeiting bond, learned that his mother's home was to be taken to satisfy the bond, and that his wife was being blamed because of stolen goods found in her dwelling.

Savage hiked back, surrendered, and went to jail—vindicating his wife and saving the home of his mother.

What music soothed the Savage breast? Somehow, we'd like to feel it was an eery echo out of babyhood, the memory of a mother song attuned to love and suggestive of sacrificial devotion.

Savage, the robber, may be a bad egg. But he is not a dead loss as long as he can be drawn overseas and across the world to square things with a loyal mother and a faithful wife.

"I will help you or oppose you, which ever you think will help you," said a citizen to a candidate. "Thank you, but don't help me too strong," said the candidate.

When man is born, people ask: "How is the mother?" When he marries they say: "What a beautiful bride!" When he dies they ask: "How much did he leave her?"

After we hear some birds rowing in their homes at night we are surprised to see any of them alive the next morning.

A local bird talks a lot in his sleep and all he says is "set 'em up agin."

The birds who park in the middle of a street when there is room near a parking meter, may not get a card, but they run a good chance of a nice fine for double parking.

KEEP COOL

"Doggone, I can't get the bus started. The engine is cold, I guess," growled Dumbbell. "That's odd," said his wife. "I should think it would be the gears that were cold; you said they were stripped, while I noticed you had a blanket over the engine."

The fellow who wrote a book of poems while in prison must have given up hope of time off for good behavior.

If we lose the war it will be because of the arguing and fighting among the people in this country.

Stebbins: Who was that lady I seen you with last night?

James: What were you doing in that part of town?

No doubt there are people who would rather walk than ride a bicycle like they did 50 years ago. It would also be easier on the bike.

Many doctors have ordered meatless days in times gone by and helped their patients very much.

When people always sit in the same place when they go to church people know they are not in church when they do not see them in the same seats.

Good Taste

WAITERS' SUGGESTIONS TO GUESTS

Ordering from a menu is a serious matter for most of us—one that often requires deep concentration. Therefore, hotels, cafes, tearooms and such should instruct their headwaiters, hostesses and waiters to refrain from suggesting to guests what they should select from the day's card. Even one who is not generally resentful of advice or sensitive to interruption is likely to be confused by an employee leaning over him to suggest that he order the lobster when he is particularly alergic to shellfish, that he select the strawberries when they always throw him into hives or that he choose the steak smothered in onions when he is on his way to spend a cuddly evening with his best beloved. Moreover, such over-attention smacks rather strongly of strong-arm salesmanship leaving the customer to suspect that the recommended items have gone begging and must be got off the hands of the chef before they grow stale.

Question: I am escorting a girl to a dance where there will be girls whom I know and with whom I should like to dance. Please tell me my obligations.—F.A.

Answer: You must dance first with the girl whom you escort and you and she would arrange for the last dance. Those intervening may be disposed of as you and she wish, but you must see to it that she is booked for every dance and not left stranded at any time. Your first duty is to her. You might arrange with some of your friends to exchange dances, but do not put her in the position that you are trying to get rid of her.

Consider the acorn; it is a nut. Yet when it falls from the tree it has wrapped up in its shell an unalterable resolution to produce an oak tree.

It is a nut, but it needs only the environment of earth, warmth and moisture to accomplish its job.

It is a nut, but it never produces a string bean vine, a lemon tree or a huckleberry bush.

It is a nut, but it specializes on oak trees and never fails.

You, too, may be a nut, but if you have the acorn's same high purpose, the same firm resolve, no human power can stop you.

If the radio man cures a squeak in your radio the price is controlled; if a doctor cures a squeak in your bones, the price is not controlled.

If a seamstress mends a break in your sock, the price is controlled; if a doctor mends a break in your leg the price is not controlled. And thus is goes.

Chile Viewed As Friend Of Ours
South American Land Vulnerable
President Rios Held Yank Friend

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. — Although Chile was one of the two out of 20 Latin-American countries (Argentina was the other one) that didn't break relations with the Axis when we declared war against the Nazi-Fascist-Jap partnership, Chilean President Juan Antonio Rios has been an outspoken pro-Yankee all along.

He was a presidential candidate at the time we issued our declaration and it was hoped that, if he won, as he did presently, he'd align his republic with us at once. He's been rather slow in doing so, but in October he'll be a visitor in Washington, and the expectation is that his main business will be to explain his delay (the reason for which isn't much of a puzzle, at that) and point out to us how we can enable Chile to join us in jig time.

Argentina's position has been entirely different from Chile's. Our business relations with the former nation never have been close, but with Germany and Italy Argentina has been on excellent commercial terms. While not unfriendly, Argentina has regarded us with indifference, at least. And its geography is such that it isn't in much danger of being seriously sideswiped by the war. German U-boating has bothered it a bit, perhaps making it trend a trifle our way, but the movement, if any, is only in its incipiency.

Chile A Good Friend

By STUART CLOETE

Why should anyone buy War Bonds? There is no compulsion to buy them. There is no winter relief ...no SS man standing outside the door saying, "Buy, or else." Nothing is at stake but the future of the country...perhaps of the world.

What then is a stamp or bond but a vote of confidence in ourselves? In our capacity to drive on, to break all opposition and then to reconstruct upon a new and better design, a world that will be different. A world of surplus instead of one of scarcity. But a bond is more than this. It is an investment. It is something of a miracle that freedom can be bought and that in addition it should pay a dividend of almost 3 percent. And this is not all, bonds stand between us and the spiral of inflation which should engulf us more easily than any enemy outside our gates. For the first time in many years, demand backed by money exceeds supply, which normally equals demand, and even stimulates it by advertising and credit purchase plans. Are we to save money against the time when we may need it, or bid for the few consumer goods that are left against ourselves?

There is one more reason for buying bonds. The President, who is also the commander in chief, has asked us to do so.

Meanwhile...while we hesitate...while we complain of nominal hardship...men die...not only fighting men, but women and small children also. They die for a good cause. A good reason...for freedom. But we who are not dying must pay in time and money, or we shall find ourselves dishonored. The time is short. It passes...and having passed, is forever lost.

Men in France, in Poland, in Norway...men all over Europe are regretting time...are saying: "If only we had known."

But we do know. The writing is on the wall. Corregidor, Pearl Harbor, Singapore, Dunkirk, are not dreams. They are evil things that have happened, and now this evil approaches us. It lies in wait off our coasts.

Time is money...but money cannot buy time, nor bring dead men to life, nor purchase freedom once it is lost.

That is why we must buy bonds now...today, and tomorrow, and the day after. Buy bonds until this thing is destroyed utterly...because time is not subject to manipulation ...because the past is dead and the future mortgaged...because the world cannot live half free and half slave. Nor we, the free, allow the mortgage upon our freedom to be foreclosed. Failing now, we fail forever. Never before could so much be bought for so little. Never so much lost for lack of that little.

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

You probably watched the eclipse of the moon some nights ago.

Just like I did, you probably read the scientific explanation about the interposition of the earth between the sun and the moon, and the moon's consequent immersion in the shadow of the earth.

My encyclopedia contains sixteen columns of text on eclipses, all of it undoubtedly very important and most of it material that a well-educated person should know.

With great difficulty I had waded my dreary way through five columns of the scientific stuff, when my wife called me from outside.

"Come on, quick; this is beautiful!" she shouted.

"Beautiful?" I said to myself. "Why there's nothing about beauty in the encyclopedia under 'Eclipse.'"

But I closed the book, and like an obedient husband, I went out.

And there, up in the high heavens, was a spectacle so majestic, so serene, so beautiful that it made me forget all about the little miseries of man.

Up there was Eternity. Up there was the inexorable workmanship of Nature. Up there was something no Hitler, no Hirohito could change one bit, with all their might.

There was the full moon shining down with a rare and lustrous loveliness, smiling, it seemed, benignly at her fuddling sister Earth.

Darker and darker it became, until the moon was in total eclipse, hidden behind a sheen of celestial rouge, a ghostly outline of her normal self.

My wife and I stood there and watched this wonderous spectacle, unmatched by any man-made show.

Arm in arm we went inside.

There was a feeling of peace and content in both of us.

It was a hope unspoken, a promise yet to be fulfilled.

But as sure as this eclipse repeats itself year after year, century after century, as sure as this, will peace come again after war. And though there may be ugliness and discord now, beauty and harmony will come again.

There may be an eclipse of right and justice today, but already the light of victory is beginning to shine in the sky.

The World and the Mud Puddles

SHOULD BE ELECTED—BUT

In these days when Washington seems to be more interested in politics than in the prosecution of the war, it is refreshing to find candidates for the National House of Representatives and for the national Senate who express themselves in rugged English as to what they would do were they elected to this or that office to which either of these candidates may aspire.

It is very easy to make pre-election promises. Many of them are made with no intention of performance. The most flagrant violation of pre-election promises, of course, was the promise of Franklin Roosevelt, prior to his election in 1932, that he would execute his office to the end that all unnecessary bureaus would be eliminated; that his administration would be one of the strictest economy—and we all know how faithfully he kept to that promise. No, it is very easy

One Man's Opinion

This will be a strange kind of election if soldiers vote by mail.

No way has been found yet for a candidate to throw the rope on a voter in Australia or Iceland.

Beyond the reach of the campaign speeches, the dazzling smiles, the glittering promises, the shiny new platform planks what will the soldiers vote on?

Maybe the war. At home we talk a lot about how the war is being run but we don't really know. The men in the service know.

And there are hundreds of thousands of them too far away to be buttonholed, urged or argued into a particular voting position.

They will never know that candidate A loves little children or that candidate B had his picture taken on a hay rick.

But they know that there is a war on and that they are in it and it may somehow reflect in their votes.

Thought for the day: Borneo casts 878 for Zilch.

Vital War Plant Will Be Erected In Hard Coal Area

Anthracite To Be Used As Basic Raw Material State Announces

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 11.—A vital war manufacturing plant which will ultimately use anthracite as a basic raw material will be erected by the war department in Northumberland county, State Secretary of Commerce Mark S. James announced today.

"While the construction of the plan is of prime importance to the nation's war effort it will also be a tremendous asset to the anthracite region in the post war period for study and development of other products," declared James.

The war department's decision to locate the plant in Pennsylvania will save critically needed transportation equipment and may eventually ease the industrial load now being carried by natural gas, coke and coke oven products, it was asserted.

The new plant will be operated by "one of the outstanding industrial corporations of its kind in the United States," said James, pointing out that negotiations with the war department for its construction were begun in April.

The war department was furnished with several sites by the commerce department that met the needed requirements after the operating company had made tests and found that anthracite coal would be suitable as a raw material.

The contract for the building of the plant has been let to the United Engineering and Construction company of Philadelphia, and work is expected to begin immediately. Staff engineers anod field men of the war department are now in the region searching titles and surveying the approximately 75-acre plot. Ten buildings are expected to be erected.

Hints On Etiquette

Wear sensible shoes when you visit one of the Army camps, as you'll do considerable walking. Dress as prettily as you can to be in good taste, because your favorite soldier will like to have something pretty and feminine to look at while you are there.

Motor vehicles in Argentina are required to be equipped with speed governors to conserve gasoline, says the Department of Commerce.

What's What At A Glance

that we need. We've been its first-rate customer. Its people know and like us. It's perfectly clear why their sympathies are our way—not England's necessarily, but pro-Yankee.

Chile, however, consists of the merest ribbon of the Pacific coast—nearly twice as long as our own Pacific frontage, from the Canada line to the Mexican border, and rather less than an hour's fast scoot across.

All its cities and resources are strung along that narrow belt, and they're of a sort that's particularly subject to annihilation by a plane or two.

There's no likelihood that Germany can raid 'em, but how about Japan?

True, it's a long ocean stretch for a plane to fly over—a darned sight longer than the hop from Dakar to Brazil's bulge into the Atlantic. Brazil's bulge, though, is a small spot and comparatively easy to protect. Patrolling Chile's thousands of miles of waterfront isn't so simple a proposition. Planes won't need to negotiate the whole trip. Carriers can bring 'em across and they can take off from on deck, raise Cain and make their respective getaways. It'll take defensive strength to stand off such raids, and Chile, never having anticipated such a danger, hasn't got it. Neither has Brazil, but it's got Yankee backing, the peril from Germany having been foreseen.

It's a safe conclusion that Chilean President Rios' query will be, "Will Uncle Sam guarantee our coast, of which we have nothing else but, against Japan?"

That raises the whole Pacific coast problem.

The Atlantic coast has been semi-reckoned with. We've got naval equipment all the way down to the River Plate. We've got our own west coastal waters and the Caribbean and the Atlantic, southward to the Rio de la Plata, attended to.

And when we get out into the southwestern Pacific (around Australia and the Solomons and thereabouts) we're prepared to deal with Japan.

Anxiety Is Natural

But we're pretty skimpily armed to take care of allies on our own side of the water, south of San Diego or thereabouts. Chilean President Rios raises the issue—"What are we going to do about it?"

Colombia, Ecuador and Peru are entitled to worry also, though they're not so distant, despite the fact that they're west coastal likewise. Still, they've got a little backcountry, behind their coasts. Chile, however, is nothing BUT coast.

Bolivia and Paraguay are western coastalish, but literally they're inland.

Get east of them, and you're in another realm.

If you want to get a western hemispherical angle on the current muss, President Rios will be fixed to give us the dope on it from Latin America.

And he'll give it to us from both sides of the continents—the two of 'em.

I presume I'm TOO Pan-American.

I'm kinda intra-American patriotic, inter-continentally.

The night-hawk is often called the bull-bat; it is neither a hawk nor a bat.

Freak Storm Burns Barn, Kills Stock

With the coming of a sudden electrical storm Wednesday evening about 7 o'clock, lightning struck the barn on the farm of Earl McFarland, East Brook-Volant road near Rich Hill church, killing four cows and two heifers, and setting fire to the barn. The structure burned to the ground, destroying with it McFarland's entire summer crop of hay, and about a hundred bushels each of wheat and oats.

The loss of livestock and crops was not covered by insurance.

The bolt of lightning struck the barn within a minute or two of the time that Miss Erma MacFarland finished milking and returned to the house.

McFarland's horses were out of the barn at the time of the fire and so were saved. And it is believed that it will be possible to salvage some of the damaged machinery and implements.

The World and the Mud Puddles

to promise and often very difficult to fulfill that promise.

I have before me a remarkable document published by a candidate for a Representative in the Congress of these United States. He says:

"I am a candidate because I want to do everything possible to preserve our rights, liberties and the American form of government. Millions of clear thinking, honest, hardworking, thrifty Americans view with anxiety and apprehension the continued loss of our individual rights and liberties, the expanson of bureaucratic control of our lives, our businesses, our properties, even our thoughts. The politicians and bureaucrats who have taken over the control of our lives, our businesses, our work, our properties are often men of mediocre mentality who do not know as well as we do, how to manage our own affairs.

"There are hundreds of thousands of people regulating our lives, thousands of regulations, restrictions, laws, rules, many boards, commissions, administrators, all costing billions of dollars, and creating unhappiness and fear of violation of the conflicting, confusing, contradictory mass of red tape and regimentation.

"Business men are so loaded with red tape, forms to fill in, regulations to comply with that the whole nation is slowed down, the war effort is hindred and billions of dollars of unnecessary expense piled on our huge public debt, besides the loss of millions of hours of constructive thought and work. Unless a change of representatives is made, we can only look for worse conditions.

"Every non-essential effort of government, every socialistic bureau, every experiment, every unnecessary bureaucrat, politician, employee who does not contribute to the war effort should be eliminated, and the money thus saved used for war. Being at war is no excuse for needlessly wasting our money.

"The government's extensive effort in apprehending and prosecution of critics of the administration has not been followed by prosecution of subversive agitators who force patriotic workers to lose hundreds of thousands of man days in slowdowns and strikes at a time when such action means the loss of precious American lives because of lack of sufficient equipment in far flung outlying American military posts.

"I believe that our military experts should direct every phase of the war, not our politicians. I am anxious to take every possible step to prevent the loss of lives of our men."

And getting right down to brass tacks, this candidate continues:

"As a congressman I would not have voted for the expensive sugar rationing. Forty-seven million dollars was appropriated, over Senator Byrd's protest to restrict production. Sugar warehouses are now bursting with surpluses.

"I would not have favored the drastic 'reezing of new cars. Now the OPA is encouraging citizens to buy cars which are deteriorating while the dealers go bankrupt.

"I would always oppose gasoline rationing in the areas where it is so plentiful that production is restricted by law." (That last is a knock-out.)

"I believe that a non-political, patriotic group of citizens could provide rubber for all our citizens and that any group, farmers or oil operators, ought to be allowed and encouraged to manufacture rubber, and that if a fair price is paid and private industry permitted to operate, there is plenty of scrap rubber to keep us rolling until synthetic manufacture gets going."

I am afraid that candidate will not be elected for he is running in a very strong New Deal district. There are several thousand government employees indifferently engaged in operating government bureaus and at very good salaries, but it is refreshing to know that there are men today running for office in these United States who are just as fearless as the pilots of our warplanes.

Draft Call For Youths Unlikely Yet This Year

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—President Roosevelt today said that he did not think 18 and 19-year-old youths would be needed or called up in the draft before the first of the year.

The president, in response to an inquiry, at his press conference, told reporters that the armed forces were taking in as many men as can be trained with present facilities.

The president was asked if he thought 18 and 19-year-old youths would be needed before the first of the year. He replied no.

He was asked further if there was any likelihood of enabling legislation on this point before Jan. 1 and responded that he is talking about that now with the war department.

He added in reply to another question that the possibility of stopping enlistments in the navy is also now under discussion with the navy department.

Women who desire to enlist in the Women's Army Auxiliary corps can do so at the local army recruiting station according to orders received today by Sergeant John T. Bilpuch, local recruiter.

A person who desires to join the WAAC should present evidence of birth and citizenship with application. If a state birth certificate cannot be presented a baptismal certificate, a statement by the attending physician or an affidavit by parents, sworn to before a notary public will be accepted.

The applicant must be between her twenty-first and forty-fifth birthday and have an excellent character, pass an intelligence test and qualify physically.

Two character of references must be secured from responsible business or professional people in her community, not relatives, who are personally acquainted with the applicant's ability.

Those who desire to qualify as specialists should submit statements from employers or other persons testifying as to their skill in the occupations desired.

Rubber Agreement Made With Mexico

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 11.—United States Ambassador George S. Messersmith today cited the newly-signed rubber agreement between Mexico and the United States as "the most significant evidence of Mexico's desire to co-operate with us".

Under the agreement, Mexico will export its entire production of synthetic rubber made from the guayule plant to the United States.

Mexico will retain its entire production of natural or "tree rubber", and will receive in addition a limited supply from the United States. Mexico also agreed to go on a strict rubber rationing basis.

SEPTEMBER COURT

September term of criminal court will open Monday morning, September 14, when the Grand Jury will meet to consider the bills of indictment handed up by District Attorney L. K. Donaldson. The list of offenses this term is the largest in a number of years although the actual trial of cases will not show such a condition, due to the pleas that have been entered.

District Attorney Donaldson estimates there will be about 130 cases in the entire calendar. His policy has been to secure pleas of guilty wherever it is possible and save the expense of trial. For this reason the trial of cases takes but little time, thus saving jury fees and witness fees. It is possible that the trial of cases will take but one week which gives you an idea of how many pleas have been secured.

RENT BUREAU

After considering the matter for some time the county commissioners have installed a rent bureau as a part of the county administration and in the future will collect rents upon all properties owned by the county.

Wesley Davy and C. Herbert Martin have been named as rental agents for the county and will embark upon their new duties Monday morning, September 14.

ENTER SUIT

To collect a mortgage of $1,300 due, the Union Trust Company of New Castle has entered a suit against Alvah M. Shumaker, administrator CTA of the estate of Nancy J. Coppers, and others.

OPINION ANNOUNCED

Judge W. Walter Braham has handed down two opinions in cases that have been heard before him, both concerning somewhat similar occurrences. In the opinion handed down in the case of the Peoples' Mutual Building and Loan Association versus H. W. and Honore Goad, the motion of the defendant to strike off judgment is refused and the motion to open judgment and let the defense in is granted. The case is one in which the defendants entered a building and loan agreement to purchase a home. After paying the principal down to $750 they offered the entire balance due which was refused. The building and loan was being liquidated and it was claimed they owed considerable more than that due to the system of stock ownership as well as the mortgage.

In the case of the same company against Charles I. and Elsie Wetmore it is ordered that the mortgage be satisfied. This was a case in which the defendants had paid off their mortgage but the building and loan claimed they were responsible for money due on stock ownership.

MARRIAGE ANNULLED

In an order of annulment handed down by Judge W. Walter Braham, the marriage of William Mulcahy and Lillian Mulcahy is dissolved. It appeared from the evidence that the defendant had married William Mulcahy after she believed she had been divorced from a previous husband. The entire details of the divorce case had not been gone into and the second marriage was annulled.

EDGAR IMPROVING

Various violations of the liquor control act are charged against licensees and clubs. Agents of the board present their testimony and decisions will come down later.

Oppose Blank Check Proposal For President

By ELLIOTT HAYES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Democratic congressional leaders today sought to heal a split over methods of meeting President Roosevelt's request for authority to combat inflation, wtih a quiet rebellion developing over proposed "blank check" legislation.

Speaker Rayburn, who urged that congress enact a simple resolution giving Mr. Roosevelt power to deal with inflation in any form, called a conference of legislative leaders to seek an agreement.

Senate leaders gave virtual assurances to "farm bloc" members that a bill—to be rushed through to meet the president's Oct. 1 deadline—would couple lowering of farm price ceilings to parity with some form of wage control.

The "farm bloc" members, who insisted upon a direction to the president to stabilize wages, received the support of both Democratic and Republican senators who have not been identified with the "farm bloc".

Senate Minority Leader McNary, it was learned, informed Rayburn that an attempt to pass a bill giving "blank check" authority to the president would meet with stiff resistance in the upper house, with the result that legislation could not be enacted by Oct. 1.

While Rayburn was confident that the house would respond to his plan, senate sources declared that a rebellion would start in the house banking committee.

Russia Offered Rubber Process

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Russia, it was learned today, offered to disclose her synthetic rubber processes to the United States not once, but twice—and was rebuffed by war agency officials on both occasions.

The offer was made first to William Batt, WPB official, at his instigation when he visited the USSR as a representative of President Roosevelt in September 1941, three months before Pearl Harbor.

In February of this year, WPB rubber experts thought it advisable to obtain samples of Russia's synthetic tires, and made representations to this end. Replying through the lend-lease administration, the Soviet agreed to send samples of her tires, and again offered a complete exchange of information on processes used in the manufacture of war-vital synthetic rubber.

At the time Russia made her offers, which, according to competent officials "had no strings attached," she had been producing the synthetic material for more than 10 years and was reported to have productive capacity equal to, if not in excess of, Germany.

TWO FLIERS KILLED

(International News Service)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 11.—Two U. S. navy fliers were killed today when their plane crashed near Saline Valley road about six miles from Ann Arbor.

Navy officials at Grosse Ile naval base, near Detroit, said the plane had been based there and confirmed the death of the two fliers. Further information was withheld pending an investigation.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of O. C. D. Workers Are Outlined In This Column

Some OCD workers have inquired as to when their names will appear in this column. They will appear as soon as possible after the city OCD headquarters announces they have been certified, have subscribed to the oath of office, and have received their identification cards. When publication was started, some persons in some precincts were qualified but had not taken the oath, and therefore had not received their identification cards and arm bands, hence they were "unofficial". The names of those who followed the rules were compiled and are being published, without regard to what precinct they serve in. Names are published daily.

Eastern Defense Area Has Restricted Areas

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Residents in the eastern defense area, which includes most of the Atlantic seaboard, today were carefully analysing an official U. S. army order which restricts civilian activities in almost a thousand specified zones, most of which lie within the boundaries of the middle Atlantic states.

The order is the second to be issued by Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commanding general of the eastern defense command. The first dealt solely with elimination of "sky-glow" which made ships at sea perfect targets for raiding submarines.

The proclamation, divided into three sections, it is conceded will have little effect upon the average citizen living in these areas except possibly for those residing on the ocean-front and even here, exceptions have been made to exclude certain incorporated communities as well as the so-called resort cities.

One section of the order provides that the army may order any person from the restricted areas whose presence there officials feel might be dangerous to the war effort. Another, already in effect but clarified by the official order, is that no person may approach within the limits of defense plants and military establishments which account for 905 of the restricted zones.

Only by the third is the average citizen additionally affected. This provides that no person may enter within 100 yards of 69 different restricted beach-front areas between sundown and sunrise without specific permission from the army. It also makes it illegal for anyone to carry into these zones at any time of the day, cameras, field glasses, radios or maps.

Harriman Says Russia Will Not Give Up Fight

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—While Russia is greatly depending on the United States for food, war material and for military aid in the form of a second front, the Russian people are determined to fight on until victory is theirs.

This is the conviction of W. Averell Harriman, former lend-lease administrator and personal representative of President Roosevelt at the recent Churchill-Stalin meeting in Moscow.

And this determination is in the face of untold hardships including hunger, Harriman told a meeting of members of Russian War Relief, Inc., last winter, for instance, he related, the principal fare in Moscow was black bread, subsequently made more nourishing by lard supplied by the United States.

Harriman said that he was convinced that the mere loss of land by the Soviets would never beat the Russians because of the plans they have worked out for moving complete manufacturing plants to other localities.

"Last year in Moscow, I was told of the program of moving their munitions production behind the Urals," Harriman related. "I was told factories were being transplanted as far as 2,000 miles from the Ukraine into the heart of Siberia. Members of my mission saw for themselves factories where each piece of machinery was tagged and numbered, fastened to the concrete only by bolts, ready to be moved at a moment's notice to safety. And the key workers went with their machines, traveling in the same box car, ready to set their machines up in buildings erected in the mean time at the new location."

This relocation, Harriman emphasized has also been carried to other fields. New mines are being opened to replace those lost and new lands have been cultivated to take the place of the Ukraine.

"In Russia, it is truly total war," he concluded.

Fancy-Colored Shoes And Boots Feel U. S. Order

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Fancy colored and vari-shaded shoes and leather boots today are scheduled to be the next victims of the war.

To divert much-needed shoe leather to the armed forces, the WPB banned the manufacture of two-color shoes and reduced the number of colors and styles to be made for 1943 spring and summer use. Shoes will be made black, white, turftan, army russet, town brown and blue.

The order, effective September 12, does not affect shoes sold this fall and permits manufacture of ample supplies of both street and dress shoes for civilian needs.

Under the order, manufacture of leather boots of any kind, except blucher-cut laced boots or cowboy utility boots, is prohibited after October 31.

Two Transports Of Japs Sunk

(International News Service)

CHUNGKING, Sept. 11.—Two Japanese transports, carrying an estimated total of 4,000 men and large supplies, were sunk August 27 by Allied submarines off the mouth of the Min river in Fukien Province, the Chinese Central News agency reported Thursday quoting "reliable sources."

The dispatch said that the Japanese ships were headed southward when hit.

The news agency also said that last Tuesday an American fighter plane shot down a Japanese reconnaissance plane over Yunnan Province.

Striking Police Are Out Of Jobs

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—Suburban Millvale breathed easier today when a brand new police department, with the exception of a very tired chief, took over the protection of the borough.

Not since Tuesday, when a lieutenant and four patrolmen went on strike, has there been any policeman walking the streets. Only Chief George W. Poung was left as the sole enforcement officer.

As soon as the four men took the oath, Chief Young went home to sleep. He said he was "dog tired"—and any police officer knows what he meant.

The appointment of the new men, according to Council President Michael J. Quinlan, precludes any possibility that the strikers will be rehired.

"We didn't get anywhere in our conference with them and they are out of their jobs now," Quinlan said.

Yet the dictator who forces his will on people is no more a tyrant than the free man who tries to force his ideas on people.

VICTIMS OF FALL ARE RECOVERING

Continued improvement is noted in the condition of George Shultz, of 208 North Walnut street, and William Wanstreet, of Wierton, W. Va., structural steel workers, who fell 65 feet at the new defense plant September 1. Wanstreet, the worst injured, suffered a fractured skull, and for a time, it was feared he would not surivive, but his condition is now improved it is stated at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Maybe the great are modest. The only ones in Washington who throw their weight around are those who haven't much.

Wilson's Milk is Irradiated—contains an extra supply of Vitamin D to help build strong bones and sound teeth. Consult your doctor for feeding formula.

FOR DRINKS

In coffee, Wilson's Milk is preferred because of the rich flavor it gives. Delicious, nutritious and economical on cereals and puddings, too. Makes the best cocoa or hot chocolate you ever tasted. Merritt Reynolds Is White House Guest

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 11.—Merritt Reynolds, Westminster College senior from New Castle, was a personal guest of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, at the White House, while representing Westminster at a conference of the Youth of United Nations at Washington, D. C. last week.

One of the chairmen of the American delegation, Reynolds, attracted the attention of the First Lady when he led a discussion on youths' views on a post-war world. Mrs. Roosevelt later invited him to come to the White House to discuss some of his beliefs with her. During his visit from 1:30 to 7:30 Saturday afternoon, Reynolds was taken on a personally-conducted tour of the presidential mansion and the White House grounds.

More than 300 representatives of Allied nations from all parts of the world attended the conference which was sponsored jointly by the United States Department of State and the International Student Service. Prominent speakers at the meetings included President Roosevelt, Vice-president Henry A. Wallace, Dr. Hu Shih, Major George Fielding Elliott, Dr. Leith of the WPB, and Dr. Harold Butler, British minister.

Purpose of the conference was to draw up a credo of common beliefs of what youth of the United Nations are fighting for in the war.

Reynolds was chosen to represent the American delegation at a Pan-American conference held in the official conference room of the Pan-American Union building.

Recipient of the Marquis scholarship award given to a graduate of New Castle high school who enrolls at Westminster, Reynolds is also a member of the college debate team, president of the Westminster International Relations Club, and president of the local chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary debate fraternity. He is a member of Kappa Phi Lambda social fraternity, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Reynolds, of Lathrop street.

Need For Typists And Stenographers Grows More Acute

Situation At Washington Has Become Desperate, Civil Service Board States

Need for stenographers and typists at Washington, D. C., has become desperate, officials of the United States Civil Service Commission stated today.

"Our men are fighting valiantly and successfully on all fronts. They must have weapons, food and clothing. A vast amount of clerical work is necessary in obtaining and allocating these supplies. Stenographers and typists are especially needed for this work. They can lessen sacrifice and suffering by going to Washington to do the ground work for the successful termination of this death struggle for liberty," the board said today.

New Castle has been asked to furnish ten stenographers and ten typists at once. Persons qualified and willing to do this work will be examined any day or evening, by making application at the New Castle Post Office, Miss Garnet Rhodes, local secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Examiners announces.

We still survive, thus proving that Providence is with us—for certainly we've done nothing in the last twenty years to save ourselves.

War Prisoners Mail Will Now Be Censored

Persons in the United States corresponding with such prisoners were directed to indorse on the address side of all mails and parcels the words "Via New York, N. Y."

Senator Byrd Sees New Drive For Economy

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—With the Senate finance committee nearing completion of a tax bill raising more than $9,000,000,000, Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D) Va., today predicted a tremendous new drive for governmental economy.

"The new tax bill certainly will make the people tax conscious," he said. "There ought to be a lot more cutting of governmental expenditures.

"At least $1,000,000,000 more can be cut from non-defense expenditures and there ought to be greater economy in so-called defense agencies, many of which are engaged chiefly in non-defense activities."

The committee has completed action on the highest corporation and individual income tax rates in history, and today considered the question of raising additional funds by taxing mutual insurance companies and levying new excise taxes.

The bill in its present form was estimated by some members to produce nearly $10,000,000,000, of which about $2,000,000,000 would be returned to corporations and individuals in post-war refunds. Treasury and congressional tax experts disagreed in their estimates of returns of some levies.

To discourage travel, the committee voted to place a 15 per cent tax on railroad, bus and plane passenger fares. A 20 per cent tax on Pullman tickets and seats was recommended. The yield was placed at $34,800,000 a year over the House propsed 5 per cent tax.

BURTONS RETURN FROM VACATION

Rev. Charles J. Burton, St. Andrew's church, and Mrs. Burton have returned from an extended visit to Buffalo, N. Y., and vicinity where they visited relatives and friends.

While in Buffalo, Rev. Burton was special preacher at St. Thomas' church, also conducting the services. He inaugurated the special service there on Thursday mornings for those in the armed services of our country, and for those in authority.

Regular services will be resumed at St. Andrew's church next Sunday with a celebration of holy communion at 8:30 a. m. At a service to be announced, an honor roll for all those from St. Andrew's church in the armed services will be unveiled and dedicated with appropriate ceremonies.

Illinois Strike Calls Militia

(International News Service)

EAST ALTON, Ill., Sept. 11.—Government agencies pressed vigorously today for a settlement of the strike at the huge Western Cartridge company plant in East Alton—called because of the discharge of one man—while 1,000 members of the state reserve militia stood by in their armories.

Gov. Dwight H. Green ordered mobilization of the state troops purely as a precautionary measure, it was said. There had been no disturbances, however, and practically the only persons passing through the picket lines were maintenance employees.

Operations were reported virtually at a standstill. The militiamen were ordered to remain at their armories and "await further orders and developments."

Employes At Erie Plant Overcome

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 11.—The Lovell Manufacturing company plant was closed today pending an investigation of a mysterious gas condition that has hospitalized 14 employes and sent 25 others to physicians for treatment.

(In Pittsburgh, the FBI said it had made a preliminary investigation, and believed the cause to be a leakage of gas that would have to be corrected by the company. None of the employes, the FBI said, was seriously ill.)

Closing of the plant, which is working on defense orders, threw 300 persons out of work temporarily.

Plant Explosion In New Jersey

(International News Service)

HACKETTSTOWN, N. J., Sept. 11.—One person was reported to have been killed and several injured today when an explosion occurred at the Essex Specialty Co. plant which is engaged in war work.

One man and a woman were injured so seriously that they were unable to give their names when admitted to a hospital in nearby Dover.

Babson Says Warmer Clothing Required For Coming Winter

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1942—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 11—I have been reprimanded by Washington for the last advice which I gave you readers to buy now certain things. At the risk of further scoldings, let me talk about now preparing for winter.

BABSON

Buy More Winter Clothing

A study of department store advertising indicates that people still demand the same kind of lightweight clothing which they have worn during the past ten years. Working girls, especially, fail to realize the tremendous changes in the world today which must change our mode of dressing, eating and living in general. We have the greatest war of history on our backs.

Let's take clothing as an example. Before the days of the closed automobile and oil heat people wore very warm clothing in winter. This included heavy underwear, long drawers, woolen stockings, high buttoned boots and warm dresses. Overcoats were bought to keep us warm—not for looks. We wore caps to pull down over our ears and mufflers around our necks. Why? Because our houses were underheated and we walked instead of rode.

Help Your Department Store

Now, Washington officials can do many things but they cannot change the weather! We are soon to have snow storms, zero winds, and all that goes with an "old-time" winter. Yet, most families will have no fuel to WASTE and will be obliged to walk in the snow and cold instead of to ride in sedan cars. Are you preparing to change your clothing back to grandmother days to meet the conditions under which grandmother lived and under which you may live this winter?

Most readers will reply that I'm a Jeremiah;—that it will be time enough to buy these "out-moded" goods in winter if they are then really needed. Let me tell you that such people are sure to be terribly disappointed. They owe it to the merchants, the manufacturers and to the railroads to buy now. Only by so doing can more warm clothing be rushed through the mills and over the railroads in time for use this winter.

Homes and Offices Will Be Colder

Take warm sweaters for instance. Factories, office buildings, stores and even homes must use less fuel this winter. This means you will feel cold. The light-weight suits and rayon dresses which men and women have, during the past ten years, been wearing in winter won't keep you warm this coming winter. You will not have the money to buy a new suit or dress. Hence, you'll shiver for a few weeks and then try to buy a heavy sweater.

The millions of others will then do the same thing! Result? All sweaters will be sold out in a few days and it will be too late to replace them. It is far more patriotic to buy sweaters now so that stocks can be replaced. The same argument applies to heavy coats, overshoes and warm stockings. Forget high heels and fancy shoes for the winter.

Transportation Troubles Ahead

I fear that the average reader of this column has little idea of the changes which are ahead. Remember that 10,000,000 workers, who three years ago were making clothing, shoes, furniture and similar things, have quit this work and are now making ships, airplanes, guns, munitions and other war supplies. Remember that the railroads, which three years ago were hauling things for you to eat, wear and enjoy, are now over-loaded. Because of the transportation of war supplies, they have little space to transport even sweaters for you while trucks are short of oil and tires.

If all the shoes, clothing, etc., now being made, were available to the people of the United States, it would not be so bad; but they are not. Our fields, factories and mines must, to a large extent, feed, clothe and fuel Great Britain, Russia, China and other nations in addition to our own people. We are in a bad mess. Economic conditions will be worse before they are better. I don't believe in hoarding; but I do believe that reasonable advance buying is patriotic and beneficial to all concerned. This includes consumers, merchants, manufacturers and the transportation companies. It especially applies to "tax-loss" selling. This is one way to avoid panic and confusion in December.

As late as 1856, a woman in the United States wrote a book titled "Every Lady Her Own Shoemaker", or a "Complete Self-Instructor in the Art of Making Gaiters and Shoes", advising that "every lady ought to know how to make every article of clothing that she needs"—including shoes.

Taxicab Service Is Cut One Third In New York City

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Action of the office of defense transportation in ordering taxicab service in New York cut by one third to save rubber, gasoline and equipment, today indicated that similar steps may be taken for other metropolitan areas of the nation.

The ODT ordered fleet operators of cabs in New York to "discontinue operating by not less than a third the number of cabs for which they are entitled to city licenses," effective September 20.

Individual operators, who have less than three cabs, were ordered not to operate any cab more than six days a week. Furthermore they were prohibited from increasing the number of shifts any cab has been operating.

ODT Director Joseph B. Eastman said that the New York restrictions "established a general conservation pattern in the industry which it may be necessary to apply to other cities.

Agencies of the Federal, State and local governments paid out one dollar of every seven received by the nation's wage and salary earners during the first half of this year, the Department of Commerce reports.

News Briefs From City Hall

M. J. Reynolds, elderly person from outside the city, who was committed to the city lock-up Friday because he refused to pay a $1.00 fine for an alleged parking vilolation, stating that it was contrary to his rights, paid the fine after several hours confinement, according to a report at police headquarters.

Auto owned by Alex Romonchuk, 926½ North Cedar street, which reportedly was stolen Thursday, was found by the owner yesterday in South Jefferson street.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH Sept. 11—Rudolph Joseph Sunal, who said he was a self-ordained minister of the gospel, posted $1,000 bond today for appearance in federal court, as he waived preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Roger W. Knox.

Various Meetings Of Church Groups

Classes And Missionary Societies Gather Thursday For Monthly Sessions

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 11.—Among the various meetings held on Thursday by church groups were:

Bell W. M. S.

Members of the Women's Missionary society gathered at the Bell Memorial Presbyterian church with a tureen dinner being served at noon by Mrs. Thomas Bookamer and Mrs. Clyde Wimer.

The day was devoted to quilting, with the program being conducted by Mrs. Roy Wiley.

McDonald Class

Thirty members of the Hannah P. MacDonald class assembled at the First U. P. church with Mrs. L. C. Barnhart being leader.

During the meeting it was decided to send fruit to the orphanage at Valencia and to send clothing to the southern mission stations. Plans were completed for sending boxes to church boys in the service.

Tasty refreshments were served by Mrs. A. H. Gardner, Mrs. Arthur Duncan, Mrs. R. J. Little and Mrs. Harry Rankin.

Lutheran W. M. S.

An election of officers featured the meeting of the Lutheran church Women's Missionary society held last night and attended by 24 members.

Those chosen were: president, Mrs. H. F. Fleischer; vice president, Mrs. Ralph Shaffer; secretary, Mrs. Andy Zekeli, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. John Duffy, and magazine secretary, Mrs. Bessie Guldbransen. Mrs. Fleischer and Mrs. F. H. Daubenspeck were named delegates to the convention to be held at Latrobe on October 7 and 8.

The topic, "Today's Children in Tomorrow's World", was presented by Mrs. Harry Felton.

Mrs. Andrew Zekeli, Sr., and Mrs. Andrew Zekeli, Jr., were hostesses and served a lovely lunch.

Happy Hour Class

When 25 members of the Happy Hour class gathered last night at the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church, it was decided to have each member send one letter a month to young men and women of the church in the armed service. The suggestion was made by the teacher, Mrs. John M. Houk, and arrangements will be in charge of Mrs. Wilbur Barnett and Mrs. Harlan Gillespie.

Mrs. Victor Markle led devotions. An enjoyable feature was an auction of produce and flowers, after which the hostesses, Mrs. Floyd Newton, Mrs. Dan Myers, Mrs. Markle and Mrs. Nellie Hazen, served a refreshing lunch.

Lewis Sibole and children left yesterday for their home in Detroit after visiting with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sibole, Western avenue.

ROUSING SEND-OFF FOR NEW MARINES

Family Of Late Corporal Killed In Action, Thanks New Marines

Fifteen youths from New Castle and vicinity today are riding toward Parris Island, all of them having enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps during "Avenge Corporal Chris P. De Matteis Week". The new recruits were given a rousing send-off at the P. R. R. station, according to Staff Sergeant John L. Dean, local recruiter.

Captain Andreason of the Service Men's Aid Association led in prayer and also introduced S. De Graff Pearson. The latter made an appropriate marine talk to the new recruits stating that his son was a former marine. The latter is now in the army.

The family of the late corporal was at the station and thanked the boys for having enlisted during the week. Corporal De Matteis was killed recently in action, according to the recruiting officer whom arranged for the "Avenge week here."

Child Has Delicate Eye Operation Today

Little Sharon Tot Suffers Peculiar Accident Necessitating Operation

Little Clara Finzel, aged 8 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Finzel, of 928 Andrew street, Sharon, underwent a delicate operation in the Jameson Memorial hospital, the second of its kind, in an effort to save her eye.

Recently the little tot was trying to get some pennies out of a glass bank, using a knife, when the glass broke, and a piece penetrated the eye, piercing the cornea and lens. A local surgeon operated recently to try and save the eye, but the stitches broke loose and a second operation was necessary, which was performed this morning.

MAN FALLS FROM RAILROAD BRIDGE

Robert Martikaala, of 903 Du-Shane street, suffered fractures of the legs this morning, when he fell from a Pennsylvania R. R. bridge, which he was painting.

He was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 10:45 o'clock, where he is undergoing treatment.

New Castle-Butler Grid Debut Here Tonight

Local Athletes Set; Game Starts At 8:15

"Canes" Will Rely On Sound Ground Game; Invaders' Personnel Experienced

"CANES" COMPLETE DRILLS UNDER LIGHTS

Prepared to face the challenges of 10 scholastic foes, New Castle high's well-regimented gridiron battalion, 39 strong, gambols onto the green covered turf of Taggart stadium, tonight at 8:15 o'clock, confident of hurdling enemy No. 1—Butler High.

By the time the swinehide floats into the crisp autumn air, a crowd that may exceed the 7,000 mark will be huddled 'round to view the inaugural of a season marred by the strife and upheaval of War II.

As his squad completed 12 days of intensive drilling, under the stadium lights last night, Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh, starting his 21st campaign as boss of the "Hurricane" corps, pronounced the athletes in "excellent early season condition".

At the same time, the genial tutor bemoaned the fact that John Zubkowsky, who suffered a severe elbow injury several days ago, may not start. As a precautionary measure, Bridenbaugh is seriously thinking of relegating the big left-end to the sidelines.

Ciccone May Start

Sam Ciccone, a rugged sophomore, will fill the slot in the event "Zub" fails to start. .. promising candidate, the ex-Ben Franklin ace has displayed unusual finesse in workouts.

The line, manned by big, tough performers, shows promise of developing into one of Bridenbaugh's smoothest functioning walls. With Zubkowsky on the end rail, the coach can field seven stalwarts equipped with beef, mobility, team spirit, power and talent. At present, experience is lacking.

Assuming that Zubkowsky "sits out", Ciccone and Burris will hang around left and right end, respectively. Mike Roussos and Tony Razzano will dig their cleats into the tackle slots, and Joe Joseph and Jesse Gunn will serve in the sentinel division. Dave Genkinger will be the man over the ball.

The ball trucking department, headed by super-special Bobby Lee, is loaded with speed. Lee, one of the greatest schoolboy gridders in the state last season, is bigger, smarter and figures to be a much better all around man.

Lee will unfurl aerials, lug the ball goalward, run interference, handle the tough safety post and punt.

Russ Currie, fully recovered from injuries which slackened a promising career last season, is all set for action. The speediest man on the squad, Russ will be quartered across from Lee in the halfback compartment.

Elkins Brothers, the ex-George Washington prize package, has been entrusted with the fullback job. Big, powerful and piston-legged, the colored athlete has unusual leg drive and looms as a key offensive man.

Pete Tedesko, Pollock avenue product, will be a busy body as he reels off the signals from his quarterback post and executes the exacting and important blocking assignment.

With the exception of Burris, Joe Joseph, Currie, Razzano, Brothers and Ciccone, all the regulars participated in the 25-0 Butler rout last season.

New Castle's offensive will revolve around a sound ground game interspersed with passes.

Experienced Personnel

The invading eleven will pour onto the field with an experienced personnel. Fullback Ianotti, who was a thorn in the path of the localites in '41, drum-majors the attack. Madden, Domke and Ianotti, starters in '41, will line up for the kickoff.

Hilliard, Bennetti, Maffei, Kerr, Diamond and DeFoggi, varsity men this season, faced the "Hurricanes" last year in sub roles.

Figuring that their ground game will be stymied by New Castle's big line, the Butlerites will probably ride the skylanes.

Joe Replogle's gayly caparisoned New Castle high school band will provide the musical tinge, a salient part of the colorful game. The bandsmen rehearsed at the stadium and looked and sounded exceedingly nifty.

The opener brings back Ralph H. Gardner as faculty manager. The popular figure, who resigned after 20 years of service, accepted the post after Norm "Scoots" Nelson resigned due to illness in the family.

Gardner announced that the student ticket gates will be thrust open at 6:30 with other turnstiles set to start humming at 7.

Zivic Is Winner; Armstrong Is Next

Pittsburgher Whips Champion Fred Cochrane In New York Last Night

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Former Welterweight Champion Fritzie Zivic, fresh from an easy ten-round over-weight victory over Champion Freddie (Red) Cochrane of the U. S. navy today looked forward to another return bout with another ex-boss of the 147-pound division, Henry (Three Crown) Armstrong, here Nov. 6.

Zivic, who took Armstrong's crown in Oct. 1940, and then proceeded to knock out the former three-championship kid in a return bout in January 1941, had little trouble with Cochrane last night at the Garden.

Freddie, who had won Fritz's title in July 1941, plainly showed the effects of a long lay-off. The popular New Jersey lad has been in the navy for several months and had but three fights in the last year.

He started cut well enough, winning three of the first four rounds, mainly by rushing Zivic and scoring with looping left hooks and an occasional wild right to the head. Then he tired.

Zivic, who seemed super-confident, didn't open up until the fifth round in which he slammed Red with both hands to the head in a sudden fusillade which brought the blood from the champion's nose.

From there to the finish, in a rather dull bout, it was all Zivic.

Pirates Release Handley, Fernandes

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—Infielder Lee Handley and Catcher Eddie Fernandes have been released outright to Toronto, of the International league, in part payment for two recently acquired players, the Pittsburgh Pirates announced today.

Both have been playing with Toronto under option.

The Toronto players involved in the deal were Pitcher Jack Hallett and Infielder Frank Colman. Both joined the Pirates in Philadelphia.

The ball club said two more players would be released outright to Toronto, and a fifth would be optioned to them next year to complete payment for Hallett and Colman.

Campbell Kane, miler, and Bill Menke, All-America basketball star, are Indiana University athletes in Navy aviation.

Brooklyn Loses While Cards Win

Bums' National League Lead Shaved To 2 Games; Pirates Defeated

BROOKS-CARDS CLASHING TODAY

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The finger nainls of the citizens are chewed to pieces, nervous systems are at the breaking point and old New York is alive with an electric tension unequalled in sports since this exact same spot on the calendar twelve months ago as the St. Louis Cardinals barge across the bridge to begin baseball's battle of Brooklyn this afternoon.

Only two games behind, and with two games with their bitter rivals, the Dodgers, in front of them, the men of Billy Southworth are fighting mad and itching to get a crack at the team they think "robbed" them of the National league pennant a year ago.

Hubbell "Beaned"

Thanks to a "break" in the accidental "beaning" of Carl Hubbell, who was to have pitched against them for the N. Y. Giants yesterday, the Cards simply romped home to a 5 to 1 conquest of the New Yorkers while the Chicago Cubs were battering the daylights out of the Dodgers, 10-2 over at Ebbets field.

Today, with Mort Cooper, ace right hander, ready for his 20th victory, the Cards are rated 6 to 5 choices by the local smart guys to whip the Dodgers, and either Whit Wyatt or Lefty Max Macon, in the all important opening game of the most important series of the year at Ebbets field.

In other National League games the Reds won their first game from the Boston Braves, 6-2, and tied the second 0-0, in nine innings when the game had to be called so Cincinnati could make a train to Philadelphia.

Pirates Lose, 2-1

The Phils beat the Pirates, 2 to 1 in the only other game in the circuit when Danny Litwhiler banged out an eleventh inning triple.

Over in the American League, the Yankees, who are sneaking up on their 13th pennant were humbled, 9-0, by the St. Louis Browns and Denny Galehouse who held the champs to three measly hits. Walt Judnich slammed out his 13th and 14th homers for the victors.

The Detroit Tigers staged a two run rally in the eighth inning to nose out the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 4, at Detroit, wiping out previous homers by Ted Williams and Dom Di Maggio.

In Chicago the veteran Ted Lyons conquered the Washington Senators 7 to 1, in a twilight game, first part of a twin bill, but then the Senators came back in the nightcap under lights and defeated the Sox 5 to 4.

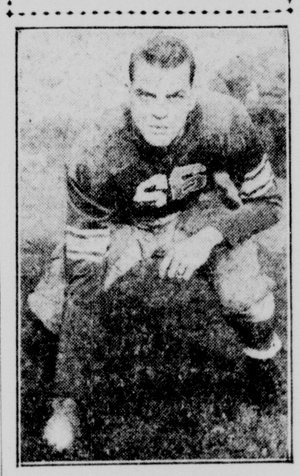

THAT'S SOMETHING

The Phillies, poorest fielding club in the National League, has led the loop, most of the season, in making double plays.

NOT OF LETTERMEN

CHAMPAIGN—At least 350 men who won varsity letters in some sport at Illinois are in the armed forces.

Service Gridder

CHALMERS ZECH

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 11.—Chalmers Zech, former Westminster College varsity tackle and captain-elect before his induction into the U. S. Army, has been selected as a candidate for the Ft. Benning, Ga. service eleven, according to information received here by Head Coach Grover Washabaugh.

Zech, whose play with the Titan squad last season was outstanding, both on offense and defense, was one of 40 men picked from 1800 soldiers eligible at the Georgia fort for a possible position on the football team.

No one has yet been elected to succeed Zech as captain of the 1942 Blue and White grid machine. The selection will probably be made sometime this week.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Coming out of a gruelling fight with Fritzie Zivic which he lost in 10 rounds in New York last night, Red Cochrane, welterweight champion who is in the navy, went on the air and made a plea that the people back home not let down the men in service who need equipmnet. He summed up his neat address with the advice: "Buy bonds." It is unlikely Zivic will receive a chance to engage Cochrane in titular combat because the sailor boy has been assigned to sea duty. The fight was a USO benefit and drew $30,817.

Writing from Chicago, Cecil Suber, Franklyn Blanning and Pete McGinty several days ago attended the Marine league corps session in Chicago and while there dropped into Tommy Thomas' night club. Proprietor Tommy noticed the "New Castle, Pa." on the ex-marines' hats and strode over and inquired if the boys were acquainted with Jimmy Dime, George Chip and the writer, and when they said they were it brought on the feel that they had a friend there. Tommy showed them a large painting of him refereeing the Louis-Braddock fight.

PHILADELPHIA—Freshmen will be eligible for varsity football at Temple University this fall.

Moose Is Loser To Crotonites, 6-5

Setback Clips Moose City Baseball League To Mere Half Game

Heroic relief pitching by Johnny Memo paced Croton A. C. to a surprise 6-5 victory over the Moose, second half City Baseball loop leader, Thursday night on Croton field.

As a result of the setback, the Moose leads the Slovaks and Ellwood City by a half game.

Memo took over the mound chores in the third with the Moose leading 4-1. Croton's four markers in the fifth and another tally in the sixth settled the issue.

N. Robinson, D. Robinson and Nicholson featured for the Crotonites. M. Orlando and Todd highlighted the Moose's hitting.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Quickies in a jiffy:

Physically perfect and sporting a southern tan, Paul "Lefty" Minner is back home following an exceptionally brilliant season as star twirler for Elizabethon (Tenn.) of the Appalachian league.

The million dollar New Wilmington athlete racked up 21 victories against only three losses. Eight of his triumphs were by one-run margins. At the platter, the 19-year-old 6 feet 5 star slapped the horsehide at a .314 gait.

While baseball is still far off and one of the uncertainties, don't be too amazed if the localite branches out in faster company. From an authentic source I have learned that a couple of fair country clubs are interested in Minner.

If you've never seen Mrs. T. E. (Freda) Nolan perform her magic on a golf course, you'll get a chance Sunday when the three-time Western Pennsylvania women's champ, she holds the crown now, plays an exhibition with Mary Louise Cleland, New Castle Field club tourney winner, at Sylvan Heights.

Our Buccos have dug deep into the Phillies' rank and have come up with Ben Warren, catcher. Now if the Pirates had grabbed say Melton or a guy named Tommy Huzhes, well that would have been different. But Warren, oh.

Charlie Berry, ex-Grove City college coach, has been added to the American league staff of umpires. The Chicago White Sox are supposedly the most generous tippers in baseball. Shame on the Yankees.

Church Bowlers To Begin Rolling Thursday, Sept. 24

Joseph Todd today announced that the New Castle Church Bowling league season will begin on Thursday, September 24.

"Red" Rolfe Gets Ken Loeffler's Job

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Robert (Red) Rolfe, the new coach of baseball and basketball at Yale university, New Haven, will finish his baseball career with the world champion New York Yankees in the world series this fall and then proceed to establish residence in New Haven where he intends to start on his new job Nov. 1.

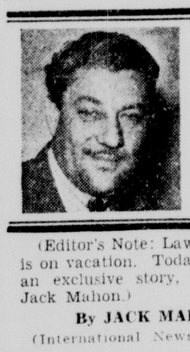

Red, who was named yesterday as baseball and basketball coach, succeeding Joe Wood and Ken Loeffler, respectively, has been with the Yankees since 1934.

He is a native of Penacook, N. H., where he was born in 1908 and starred in baseball and basketball at Dartmouth.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

(Editor's Note: Lawton Carver is on vacation. Today's column, an exclusive story, written by Jack Mahon.)

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Uncle Mike Jacobs, 62-year-old baldheaded dean of the nation's sports promoters, is going to war right after the big return heavyweight title bout between Sgt. Joe Louis and Private Billy Conn, October 12, and, if he has his way, will organize the greatest sports caravan ever assembled and entertain the boys in our fighting forces right where it will do them the most good—on the far-flung battlegrounds of the world!

Mike's idea, tremendous as it sounds, is typical of the way he does things, and he has every reason to believe the War Department will give him the green light.

Accepts Post

Here's what he proposes to do. Right after the Conn-Louis fight he will go to Washington to be formally enrolled as civilian consultant of the War Department. He was asked to serve in this capacity about three months ago by Maj. General Alexander D. Surles, head of the public relations bureau of the War Department, and eagerly accepted. On Tuesday Surles asked if he'd be ready to report after the October 12 fight, and Mike said he'd be only too willing to do so.

"I will be assigned to promote sports entertainments for the soldiers and be asked to act as advisor in any kind of promotions the War Department undertakes," explained Uncle Mike. "That's all I know about it now, but I have a couple of ideas which I'll present to General Surles when I take over the new job, and I think they'll be approved.

"I'd like to take Joe Louis and Billy Conn, regardless of who is the heavyweight champion, and all the best fighters and other athletes I can get and form a traveling sports circus. And I'd bring them where they'd be most appreciated, to the boys on the fighting front.

"They're the ones who need entertainment. They're the fellows whose morale we should be most interested in. The boys over here are still on their home soil and there are plenty of people around to think up things to entertain them," continued Mike earnestly.

Show on Tour

"I want to take a sports show on tour. Fly it to North Ireland; to Alaska and Iceland; the Panama Canal Zone, Hawaii and even to Australia. Any place where the boys are fighting and need to be pepped up. I know every fighter in the service would want to go, and I hope I can put the idea across."

Mike pointed out that fights could be arranged between the Americans and native fighters of any country his troupe would visit, as well as other competitive events for whatever other type of athletes he is able to round up.

Hitler To Dig In Along Volga It Is Expected

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Fighting hard against time and the growing might of the United Nations, Adolf Hitler in the next few weeks expects to brace himself by digging in along the west bank of the lower Volga for the coming winter while unleashing both peace offensives and military thrusts against his foes in Asia, Africa and the west.

Grim resistance around Stalingrad and elsewhere on the vast Russian front already indicates pretty definitely that the lower Volga for this year is the outer limit of any withdrawal by the Red army. Like the English channel in the west, this compels Hitler to accept a "wet front" in the east.

The capture of Stalingrad, although another sad blow to the already crippled industrial power behind the Soviet armies, would have far from a decisive or paralyzing effect on the continued fighting power of Russia. To Hitler it is the eastern frontier of Europe, but unless the central and northern armies of Stalin collapse, he merely has the satisfaction of seeing the Swastika wave on the Volga while the great campaign of 1942 he staked so much on with all its sacrifices remains as indecisive as that of 1941.

As long as the hammer and sickle still waves behind intact Red armies defending themselves against Nazi onslaughts, Hitler has failed to meet 1942 objectives, with the foregone conclusion that sooner or later the fatal space of Russia again will prove the eventual victor.

Only those automotive vehicles having essential uses are permitted to operate in Italy at present, the Department of Commerce says.

CITY FIREMEN GIVE TRANSFUSION TODAY

Firemen William Bowen and Herman Steinbrink today gave up some of their blood to help a comrade's wife regain her health. The transfusion was given Mrs. Wellington Pulford of Woodland avenue, who has been in the Jameson Memorial hospital for several days, seriously ill. Doctors are hopeful that the transfusion will put her on the road to recovery.

we've streamlined your radio enjoyment

Movie-Radio Guide, your favorite movie and radio magazine, has improved its program section. Again? That's right. We've revamped and restyled our day-by-day listings, added all the improvements that we've developed in the past several months, and the result is an easy-to-read program section that you'll thoroughly enjoy.

From now on, each day's programs, from 7:00 a. m. to midnight, will be listed separately, as a complete unit. They'll be listed so clearly and simply that you couldn't possibly miss a broadcast you wanted to hear.

There's a Best Listening Box that has the "cream of the crop" all picked out for you—best variety shows, news broadcasts, musical programs, serious discussions.

Besides all the program information, Movie-Radio Guide discusses new movies, new radio programs, and is full of gossip and pictures of all your favorite stars.

That beautiful field of grass . . . called by the team as a football field . . . we are told by a member of the school board that there is not a blade of grass out of place . . . the turf has never been so good . . . BEAUTIFUL that's what it is. Maybe the game tonight should be played somewhere else said another . . no the boys on the team deserve the best. Good turf helps prevent broken arms and legs.

Call 8123-J1 for a few kittens . . . just the right age to make them satisfied in a new home. Get busy on the phone.

It's odd the way the human mind works. Now look around this town. There are a lot of bright home town people . . . a few are successful outside of their own business . . but when a job is to be done for the good of the community or when tickets are to be sold for a benefit or when money is to be raised . . . what happens? Do the so-called "self-termed" powers-to-be call on a native of the community. No, usually they call on a person who has just recently claimed this community as their home . . . and before you know it the people who have worked hard in this town for 35 or more years do the backing-up of all these projects, while the "carpet bagger" keeps selling his stuff. Funny as all get out when you look over the years that have gone by . . . look back as far as you want . . . History repeats itself. But we love New Castle and its people.

It is one of the severest tests of friendship to tell your friend of his faults. If you are angry with a man, or hate him, it is not hard to go to him and stab him with words; but so to love a man that you cannot bear to see the stain of sin upon him, and to speak painful truth through loving words . . . that is friendship. But few have such friends. Our enemies usually teach us what we are, at the point of the sword.

* * *

Take a few moments and read the small ads on this page . . . from coast to coast classified ads work . . . the large selection that we have here for you will find most anything that you might wish for . . . If it's not here try asking for your article with a classified ad.

STOCKS

Stock Market Trend Is Same

Fractional Losses Are Reported In Trading During Morning

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The stock market weakened for the third successive day today. Losses ran to a point or more in a few leaders. Trading was quiet.

The major influence was the rubber report of the Baruch committee. Oil shares, including Standard Oil of N. J. and California Standard suffered sizeable losses on the recommendation of national gas rationing.

Chrysler, Atchison and Sears Roebuck lost a point or more each. American Telephone was under further pressure.

Consolidated Oil was very active, opening on three blocks aggregating 5,000 shares. Curtiss Wright and the Erie issues also were prominent.

Twin City Rapid Transit preferred continued its climb, gaining nearly 4 points more to a new high. Armour preferred slipped fractionally to a new low.

Elsewhere a lower trend prevailed in such groups as steels, coppers, aviations, rails and utilities.

Boro Council Has Meeting

Preliminary Investigation Of Feasibility Of Purchase Of Water Co. Authorized

OTHER ACTION AT MEETING LAST NIGHT

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 11.—Approval for the preliminary investigation of the feasibility of purchasing the Ellwood Water company was given to W. E. Johnson, of the Johnson-McLean Investment company, of Pittsburgh, last night by the Ellwood City Boro Council assembled in regular session.

Solely at their own expense the Investment company will make a survey of the company to determine its value. All accounts will be audited and an engineering company will survey the project. After the investigation should the Boro agree to buy the company, the charge for the survey will be paid by the Boro. It is expected that the Boro will ultimately buy the company with the bonds to be provided by the Investment company and issued against the company's assets. While no statement was made at the meeting concerning the price of the Company, it is said that the cost of the purchase may be approximately one million dollars. Councilman Boyd cast a dissenting vote against the investigation approval motion.

A leave of absence was granted Emmerson Walker, assistant boro engineer, who has joined the Army Engineering Corps at Columbus, O. The vacancy will be temporarily filled providing the boro manager can locate a qualified assistant.

Need Fire Equipment

From the Ellwood Volunteer Fire Department a letter was received requesting the boro to take action at once concerning the purchase of additional equipment. It has been up before Council many times in past years and usually tabled because Council and the department couldn't agree on the kind of equipment. The company wants an aerial truck as do half the members of Council. The other five members of Council approve a hook and ladder truck, which the fire department thinks is out moded. Recently, Council agreed to buy an aerial truck and advertised for bids but were refused a priority rating. A motion made last night that they apply again for a priority was lost in a 5 to 5 vote. It was finally agreed to have the fire committee meet again with the company to determine whether they will approve any other type of equipment. Councilmen agree that the equipment is in bad condition, and the matter was dropped when L. L. Maxwell, president of the Firemen, "invited Council to have a practice on the present ladders any night."

To Buy Air Raid Sirens

It was agreed to purchase two additional air raid sirens at an estimated cost of $218 each, plus fifty dollars charge for installation. If the electric sirens can be secured, they will be placed at Lawrence avenue and 12th street; and Woodside avenue and Joffre street intersection.

Boro Manager, Lowell W. Monroe, was instructed to attend the 29th annual boro manager's conference to be held at French Lick Springs in Indiana beginning October 11.

C. J. Watterson was chosen as a watchman for the light plant to begin his duties at once. A phone for the ration board office was approved.

The boro solicitor was instructed to file suit against the bonding company for the improvement of California avenue and Argonne Boulevard. The streets have not held up, and it is claimed by Council that the promoters of this new residential section did not fulfill their agreement in providing the agreed-upon type of base in the street construction.

The only contagion reported was two cases of scarlet fever.

A petition for the improvement of Summitt avenue from South Second street to the boro line was tabled. A request of the Frank Straw estate for the waiving of interest and penalties on a paving lien was referred to the finance committee.

Bids for traffic signal lights were received and referred to the committee for a recommendation.

Total fines, costs and forfeits for the month of August was listed at $106. Tax collections for the month of August amounted to $5,750.

Rescue Squad Locates Child Lost In Woods

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 11.—The Ellwood Fire department rescue squad was called to Prospect last night to aid in locating a two-year-old child who was lost.

The child, Joseph Paul McGahan, was found by members of the squad at 1:30 o'clock this morning running about in a woods about 3 miles from his home. He had been missing since 6 o'clock, and the rescue squad was called to aid with the search at midnight.

Ellwood High Will Meet Union Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 11 — Tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the Lincoln high school football field, the Ellwood high Wolverines will meet Union Township high school in a game that is expected to draw one of the biggest crowds of the season, if past attendance records are a guide.

Union Township has long had a place on Ellwood's schedule and is a team that annually gives the Croftmen a strong battle. Missed from the Union Township lineup will be Walter Jaskola, remembered as the star back of the township outfit, who is now at Penn State. Wilbur Patterson is the coach of the Union team.
